

Dr. Anna L. Forbes

November 8, 2022

Dr. Anna L. Forbes, daughter of the late Deacon David and Mother Hermina Brown Forbes of the Rosemont Subdivision, passed away peacefully at her home on Tuesday, November 8, 2022, surrounded by her sisters and caregiver.

Dr. Forbes retired from Kings County Hospital in Brooklyn, NY as Clinical director of the Department of Child Psychology. In 2018, she moved back to Charleston and continued her fellowship at the Greater Refuge Temple where Apostle Walter Lee Jackson is the pastor.

She leaves to cherish her memories: her siblings, David Carl Forbes (Edrica), Patricia Forbes Johnson (Franklin), Priscilla F. Stepter (Moses), and Gerald Forbes; an uncle, Reverend William Brown (Diane). The family will receive friends beginning November 11 at 45 Sycamore Ave. Building 5-Condo 517 from 2:00 PM-7:00 PM. The family can be contacted at 843-460-7890.

“ Anna Louise as I remember was a quiet and very intelligent person. When she left Charleston for New your, we were all very young. Her parents were very kind to the Addison children when our mother died. Mother Forbes would come over to the house, just to check on us. We love the Forbes family. You will always be in our hearts and prayers.

“ I had the privilege of working with Anne Forbes in the Division of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry at Kings County Hospital Center of the New York City Health and Hospitals Corporation. She was the Administrator and I was a Social Work Supervisor and later an Assistant Director of Social Work. She was very professional and always had the needs of the patients and their families in mind. Anna was always very kind to all her colleagues. On June 2, 2017 Anna and I were among twenty five non unionized managers terminated for budget reasons at Kings County Hospital Center. I never got the chance to bid her farewell but I am glad that she spent her final years with her family in her hometown, May Anna rest in the peace she created. May her family be comforted.

“ Ms. Anna Forbes was a very private person but a lady full of grace, dignity, peace, and endurance. She was steadfast in all things in life, her community, her career, her family but most of all her job as the Senior Associate Director of the Child and Adolescence Service at Kings County Hospital for many decades. She loved her Queens, New York home and refused many times (despite my constant nagging) to sell it and moved down to South Carolina with her dear sister and brother who she fondly talks about. Even when there was a snowstorm, Anna would get into her Toyota corolla and drive from Queens to Brooklyn to get to work.

Anna as she was known as to many at Kings County was humble, talented and had an impact on those around her. She always had a smile even when the going get rough. The child and Adolescence Service at Kings County suffered a great loss when Ms. Forbes left. She was the glue that kept the service intact. I have had the opportunity to work closely with Ms. Forbes and would still call her occasionally after she retired but then lost contact with her. I am so happy that she finally went down to Charlestown and was with her dear family in her final days.

Anna has a lived a great life and will be missed dearly but to her family my words of comfort are” When we all get to heaven, what a day of rejoicing it will be.” We will always remember her infectious smile. Anna is in a better place and may her soul rest in peace eternally.

Love,
Glory
