Naomi "Nomie" Cash Collins, a cherished matriarch and beacon of warmth in her community, peacefully departed this world on August 2, 2025, surrounded by the love of her family in her hometown of Charleston, SC. Born on November 24, 1946, to the late Leon Cash Sr. and Claretta Y. Cash, Nomie's life was a testament to the enduring power of love, family, and resilience.

Nomie's journey through life was one of dedication and honor. After graduating from Burke High School in 1965, she embarked on a remarkable 28-year career in the United States Air Force. Her service took her across the globe, from the shores of Guam to the bustling streets of Turkey. With a strong sense of duty and a knack for leadership, she excelled in personnel positions, earning admiration from both peers and superiors. Nomie's military career was a testament of her love for her country and her commitment to the values she held most dear.

Nomie's legacy at Reid House is one of unwavering support and profound impact on the community she served so selflessly.

Nomie shared an enduring love story with her late spouse, Louis M. Collins, Sr. Together, they built a life characterized by joy and resilience. Her legacy is carried on by her devoted children, Lendall Collins, Marci Collins-Stewart, and Alaina Brown (Cleve), each of whom embody the virtues she held dear. The light of her wisdom will continue to shine brightly in her granddaughters, Jada Young, Jordan Young, and Jurnee Brown, and great-granddaughter, J'Nai Sanders.

“ Ohana means Family..that’s the biggest lesson learned from this Family. Though not born into, I was always treated the same. One thing about Aunt Naomi, she loved you, but she put the fear of God in you. She will truly be missed.
